ABSTRACT

Designed to aid students and other researchers in finding information about gays, lesbians, and homosexuality, this guide contains a collection of annotated bibliographies, or pathfinders, of both gay and general reference sources in each of 14 disciplines and lists of some major gay and lesbian works in each area. The materials listed are based upon the University of California, Los Angeles library collections, and they include gay and lesbian interdisciplinary reference sources, gender studies reference sources, popular/general interest reference sources, other interdisciplinary reference sources, autobiographies and biographies, essay collections, interdisciplinary periodicals, and nonfiction prose. Materials listed for each of the disciplines may include indexes, encyclopedias and handbooks, bibliographies, directories, and dictionaries. The disciplines covered are the arts, literature, philosophy, religion, history, social sciences, anthropology, education, sociology, psychology, sexuality, health science, business, and law. Introductory materials provide a brief overview of the current status of gay and lesbian studies programs and the availability of information in this area, as well as explanations of how to use this guide and how to search for information in gay and lesbian studies. The pathfinders are followed by a list of other resources for research, a guide to the use of gay-related terms in several online databases, and a title index to the reference works. (MAB)

INTRODUCTION

> In 1961, when I was twenty-one, I went to a library in Washington, D.C., to read about homosexuals and Lesbians, to investigate, explore, compare opinions, learn who I might be, what others thought of me, who my peers were and had been.
> Judy Grahn, Another Mother Tongue, xi.

Many people have felt similar needs for information about gays and lesbians, whether for scholarly research or to find out more about themselves or others. Often they have turned to libraries to fulfill these needs. This collection of bibliographies is meant to be a guide to research in gay and lesbian studies, a shortcut to finding information on self-identified homosexuals, gays, and lesbians, as well as others who have engaged in homosexual behavior, such as bisexuals. I have also included several works on the disease AIDS, since it has mostly affected gay men in this country over the past decade.

Gay and lesbian studies is a relatively young field of scholarship, especially in academic circles. In "Gay Studies and Men's Studies," Walter L. Williams traces the development of gay studies from Magnus Hirschfeld's Institute for Sexual Research in early 20th century Berlin. He says that "by the early 1980's, gay and lesbian scholarship had emerged as established fields within several disciplines (1)." Many academic and professional associations now have gay/lesbian caucuses, such as the American Psychological Association, the Modern Language Association, and the Committee on Lesbian and Gay History. Williams feels that gay studies should be included in men's studies programs, just as lesbian studies is now often a part of women's studies. He also calls for an interdisciplinary annual review journal, international conferences, and a major research center for gay studies.

According to Margaret Cruikshank, lesbian studies has been an outgrowth of women's studies. She defines it as > both the grassroots cultural work which tells us who we are and the more formally organized courses on lesbianism which now exist in a few women's studies programs and in women's centers (2).

She broadens lesbian studies to include both books about lesbians and those with a pronounced lesbian perspective.

There is some difficulty in defining gay and lesbian studies, partly due to the current debate between essentialism and social constructionism, which are alternative theories of homosexuality, over who gays and lesbians exactly are. Essentialists feel that homosexuals have always existed, and stress their similarities as they research these people through history. Meanwhile, constructionists stress the differences between modern homosexuals and those who have engaged in same-sex behavior earlier (pre-19th century), and between homosexuals in different cultures today. If homosexuals from outside our culture are not really gay and lesbian, are they still subjects for research in gay and lesbian studies?

Will Roscoe's article contains a great summary of the various definitions of gay and lesbian studies. He argues that a multidimensional model of sociosexual specialization is needed, one which uses sexuality, identity of "differentness," gender status, social role, economic role, and spirituality as components of gay and lesbian identity. He says that there has been a continuous social pattern of gay cultural forms through history, and these should be studied by gay and lesbian scholars.

Women's studies has also generated controversy over its definition. In An Introduction to Library Research in Women's Studies, Susan Searing discusses the nature of the field. She describes women's studies as women-centered, interdisciplinary, evolving, rooted in the women's movement, and rewarding. I believe that the substitution of "gay and lesbian" for "women" would keep the statement fairly accurate.

Probably all would agree that gay and lesbian studies is growing. The first international gay and lesbian studies conference, called "Among Men, Among Women," was held in Amsterdam in 1983, and the Sex and the State conference brought gay and lesbian scholars to Toronto in 1985. Two international gay and lesbian studies conferences in the Netherlands were held in December 1987. One was held at the University of Utrecht and the other was at the Free University of Amsterdam. Both of these schools have had gay studies programs for several years. The Homostudies Department at the University of Utrecht, in which students can minor, also offers a gay history class to students outside the department. They have done much research on homosexuality both in the Netherlands and in western Europe.

Gay and lesbian studies programs are gaining academic legitimacy in the U.S. as well. Gay and lesbian studies centers have recently formed at both Yale and the City University of New York. Martin Bauml Duberman of CUNY says that a substantial body of work in gay studies has now developed so that it can be formalized in universities. The "Lesbian and Gay Studies '87: Definitions and Explorations" conference was held at Yale Humanities Center in October 1987, and the inaugural symposium of CLAGS (Center for Lesbian and Gay Studies) at CUNY was held in November 1987. These new gay studies centers have plans for public lectures, monthly seminars, annual conferences, publishing of research and scholarly journals, and course development and teaching.

Other colleges and universities around the country have been offering gay and lesbian classes as well. One Institute of Homophile Studies in Los Angeles has a higher-degree program in gay studies, and the Institute for the Advanced Study of Sexuality in San Francisco offers gay-related courses. There is a gay studies doctoral program at Emory University in Atlanta, and Samaritan College in Los Angeles now has a Lesbian Studies Dept. UCLA also offers 4 gay and lesbian classes each year. A recent TenPercent issue listed these courses with their reading lists: Architecture & Urban Planning 249 - Planning for the Gay and Lesbian Communities; English 100D - Gay Literature; English 180X - Lesbian Literature; and Psychology 137F/Women's Studies 185D - Psychology of the Lesbian Experience. Perhaps soon there will be even more.

The purpose of this guide is to aid students and other researchers in finding information about gays, lesbians, and homosexuality. While the bibliographies are based on the collections of the UCLA Libraries, it is hoped that others can use this guide to find information in their libraries as well. The guide contains annotated bibliographies, or pathfinders, of both gay and general reference sources in each discipline and lists of some major gay and lesbian works in each area. There are also explanations of how to use this guide and how to search for information in gay and lesbian studies. The pathfinders are followed by a list of other resources for research, a guide to the use of gay-related terms in several online databases, and a title index to the reference works.

This research guide is not meant to be comprehensive in any sense of the term. Many worthy books are not in the UCLA collections, and even some of those that are were left out either inadvertently or due to lack of space. Not all of the works included are positive or even neutral in their discussions of homosexuality, but I expect that the negative ones are few. I readily admit a progay bias in my choices of books to list in this guide, as I feel that they are a counterweight to the volumes of antigay material published in the past. I hope that this research guide will help you to take advantage of the vast library resources in gay and lesbian studies. Gays and lesbians must rely on the written word more heavily than other groups because we are often denied access to other forms of mass media. Many of these works can help us to understand ourselves and others, but they will only be used when people know about them.

HOW TO FIND INFORMATION IN GAY & LESBIAN STUDIES

There are many ways to find information on gay and lesbian-related topics in the library. However, since gay and lesbian studies spans the disciplines, using a systematic search strategy can save much more time than just browsing the HQ 75-76 shelves. The classic search strategy, presented on page 6 of Searing's guide, contains the following steps:

(1) choosing and refining a topic

(2) reading background information

(3) finding books on the topic

(4) finding articles on the topic

(5) finding other materials on the topic, such as government reports, pamphlets, diaries, correspondence, and other primary sources

(6) finding works cited in the sources you have already found.

Of course, another early step may be consultation of a research guide such as Susan Searing's book, Wayne Dynes' research guide, or this one.

This search strategy tends to work better for established topics than for more recent ones. Yet it will not hurt to try using them to find information on your topic - you may even find more information than you need. After you have selected a topic for study, or at least have an idea of what you would like to read about, you may turn to encyclopedias and handbooks for background information. Unfortunately, general encyclopedias and many specialized ones are rather poor in their coverage of gay and lesbian topics. The Encyclopedia of Homosexuality, just recently published, is currently the only specifically gay encyclopedia, but some subject ones may be helpful as well. Information about these sources can be found in the following pathfinders.

SEARCHING FOR BOOKS

Following Step 3 will likely bring you a wealth of information on your topic. References for gay and lesbian books can be found in many bibliographies listed in this reference guide. The best way to identify and locate books in the UCLA Library collections is through ORION, the online catalog. There are two main different kinds of searches - those for specific books and journals, and those for books and journals on a certain subject. When looking for a specific book, you should use the "fnt (author & title)", "fti (title)", or "fna (author)" commands. Both the "ljt (journal name)" and "fnt (journal name)/j" commands will locate journal titles for you.

If you want to find books or journals (but not journal articles yet) on a subject, first look for the best subject heading for your topic in the Library of Congress Subject Headings (LCSH). The next section contains many gay-related subject headings from LCSH and MeSH (Medical Subject Headings) used at UCLA. Use "bsu" on ORION to find items on each heading with the term(s) you type, or "fsu" for searching all books and journals with those term(s) in any subject heading. The find subject command may bring you more results, but more of them may be irrelevant to your topic. It can be used to combine subject terms, such as "gay men" and "dissertations." You may also search for all books by and about a person with the "bna (name)" command. Here are some further tips for searching ORION:

(1) Try to use the longer, more unique words in your find and browse searches. Only a few words (3-4) should be necessary to locate an item.

(2) Find searches can be limited by year, decade, library(ies), and publication type.

(3) You may combine terms and certain search commands, i.e. "fnt lesbian and fsu homosexuality". You may also add terms or elements to a previous search.

(4) Use "fti" to search for books on a topic that may not have a specific subject heading yet. This is particularly important for newer topics, since it takes a while for LCSH to catch up to current terminology.

(5) Some punctuation marks, such as "/", should not be used when searching ORION.

(6) ORION now includes a list of subject headings used at UCLA (use "lsh") and some other databases.

(7) Be sure and check the help screens and guides and ask the librarians for help.

MELVYL, the online catalog for all the UC campuses, is also available at UCLA for searching the holdings of other academic libraries in California.

SEARCHING FOR PERIODICAL ARTICLES

Currently the best way to locate articles is to use indexes and abstracts, many of which appear in this guide. You can find others by using a subject search on ORION with "abstracts" or "indexes" following the subject term. Indexes customarily identify periodical articles, books, or parts of books by author, title, and journal or book containing the article or chapter. They can provide access by author, title, title keywords, and/or subject headings (descriptors).

Abstracts provide the same things as indexes, but also include summaries of the articles. Often abstracts (and sometimes the complete reference or citation) must be looked up in a separate volume from the index. Abstracting services provide less coverage than indexes and entail a more complex search process, but they can help you determine the value of articles for your research (and thus save time).

OTHER MATERIALS

Government reports dealing with gay and lesbian topics can be located in the Public Affairs Service at UCLA. Look at the Political Science section of this guide for reference sources to help you find these documents. Several diaries and correspondence from gays and lesbians are listed in the Autobiography & Biography section. More of these primary sources can be found by using "bna" searches on ORION to find correspondence and diaries under personal names. Archives should also be checked (see the Other Resources section).

The books and articles that you find on a topic may provide you with several further references, especially if they have bibliographies. Keep in mind that these will tend to be older material. The indexes should be searched for the most current citations. Gay and lesbian studies is interdisciplinary, so you may need to use reference sources in several fields to find information on your topic. Citation indexes are good for finding recent articles that cite earlier works. Of course, browsing the shelves in the areas of known books can be useful, as well as seeing what is available at local gay bookstores and public libraries.

HOW TO USE THIS GUIDE

The major part of this guide is a series of annotated bibliographies of reference sources in several subject areas which deal with gays and lesbians. These refer to bibliographies, encyclopedias, dictionaries, directories, handbooks, and indexes/abstracts. Some of these are meant to be used for gathering background information on topics, while others should be used for finding books, articles, or other materials on a topic. Gay and lesbian sources are included, but most are general reference works. The entries for gay/lesbian reference works contain descriptions of the particular source and some evaluation of their value for research in gay and lesbian studies.

Most gay-related reference works at UCLA were included in this guide, but general reference works have been chosen on the basis of their apparent value for research in gay and lesbian studies. Reference sources without subject access, such as biographical dictionaries, were not included, though they may be searched once you have personal names to search them with. I have used several gay-related terms to search indexes and similar works and listed the results. Usually I used the following terms and variations of them: AIDS, bisexual, gay, lesbian, homosexual, homophobia, and sodomy. In addition, I found other appropriate subject headings in thesaurii and through cross-references, especially in the Wilson indexes.

The headings and their number of citations indicate the amount of information on gay/lesbian topics that can be found in each index. It is definitely incomplete, as I only searched one vol. of each index, there may be other gay-related citations which were not indexed under these terms, and appropriate descriptors may change in the future. Generally, there seems to be a move toward "gay" and "lesbian" terms from "homosexual" ones. Brief instructions are also given for searching the increasing number of CD-ROM database indexes. Several are now available in the UCLA library reference depts. Although there are different formats, they are not difficult to use, and you will save much time by trying them.

Lists of major works in each area are also provided. Many times I found it difficult to decide which category a particular work belonged. Consequently, you may need to check in several areas for some topics. These books are only meant to be a start towards research on each subject. Recent or classic works that I believe give a good overview of the subject are given an asterisk. I have emphasized recent works, and all the books are in English. However, many foreign-language and older materials can be found through searching ORION. The UCLA library locations are noted, with indications of bibliographies and periodical book reviews which have information on the books. Check with ORION for up-to-date information on library locations and call nos.

You will also find a list of notable gays, lesbians, and bisexuals in the arts which can give you some personal names for access into the literature. While subject headings are usually sufficient to find gay or lesbian-related books and periodical articles in the social sciences, personal names of artists or literary authors are often required to locate research in the humanities and fine arts. Look for these names as you read general humanities research and anthologies, and also check the Encyclopedia of Homosexuality.

EXPLANATIONS OF SYMBOLS

Citations usually include author or editor, title, edition (other than first), series, publisher, date, and location in the UCLA libraries. Library of Congress call nos. are used at UCLA, but X is used for uncatalogued books. If more than one edition is held by UCLA, bibliographic information is given for the most recent and/or American edition. Indications of periodical book reviews or bibliographies appear after the call no.

Partially annotated bibliography of books and articles on homosexuality. Since there is only an author index and the broad subject categories contain up to 3,827 alphabetized entries each, it may be difficult to find citations on smaller topics in this wealth of bibliographic information. Vol. 1 covers bibliography, general studies, the behavioral sciences, education and children, medicine and biology (including psychiatry), law and its enforcement, the military, and religion and ethics. Vol. 2 contains entries on biography and autobiography, studies of literature and the arts, fiction (including drama), poetry, the homophile movement, periodicals, and transvestism and transsexualism. Vol. 2 also has an essay on the homophile movement by Salvatore J. Licata, called "The Period of the Pioneers, 1948-1960."

3. Dynes, Wayne R. Homosexuality: A Research Guide. Garland Reference Library of Social Science, vol. 313. New York: Garland, 1987. URL ref: Z,7164,S42,D96,1987
Large interdisciplinary bibliographic guide on homosexuality and gay/lesbian research covering most non-fiction subjects. It is divided into the following sections: general, women's studies (including lesbian studies), history and area studies, anthropology, travel, humanities, philosophy and religion, language, lifestyles, economics, education, politics, military, sociology, social work, psychology, psychiatry, family, boundary crossing (transvestism, transsexualism, etc.), law, law enforcement, violence, medical (including AIDS), and biology. Both books and articles are annotated, including some reference works, which are mostly other bibliographies. It is one of the most important sources for research in gay and lesbian studies. Indexed by subject and personal names.

4. Homosexuality in Canada: A Bibliography. 2d ed. Canadian Gay Archives Publication, no. 9. Toronto: Canadian Gay Archives, 1984. BI: *Z,7164,S42,H768,1984

Briefly annotated bibliography of books, periodical articles, theses, book reviews, and other published and unpublished material. Classified under many subjects and indexed (author/title).

5. Maggiore, Dolores J. Lesbianism: An Annotated Bibliography and Guide to the Literature, 1976-1986. Metuchen, N.J.: Scarecrow Press, 1988. URL ref: Z,7164,S42,M33,1988 / CL: IP

Annotated bibliography of books and articles on lesbianism intended for social workers. It is composed of sections on the individual lesbian, minorities within a minority, lesbian families, and health. There is also a list of bookstores, newspapers, directories, and some reference books. Indexed by author and title only.

6. Millett, Antony Percival Upton. Homosexuality: A Bibliography of Literature Published Since 1959 and Available in New Zealand. Wellington, New Zealand: New Zealand Library School, 1967. URL: Z,7164,S42,M619

Bibliography of books, periodical articles, and essays on homosexuality, mostly from the 1960's. It could be useful for historical research purposes. Indexed.

7. Parker, William. Homosexuality: A Selective Bibliography of Over 3,000 Items. Metuchen, N.J.: Scarecrow Press, 1971. EP: Z,7164, S42, P22 / BI: ZWM,615,P229h,1971

Lists all significant writings on homosexuality in English through 1969, with emphasis on books, pamphlets, and research journal articles. It is divided into sections by type of publication, such as theses and dissertations or articles in homophile publications. Indexed by subject and author.

8. Parker, William. Homosexuality Bibliography: Supplement, 1970-1975. Metuchen, N.J.: Scarecrow Press, 1977. URL(?) & EP: Z7164,S42,P22,sup.

Much the same format as the original work. As before, there are appendices covering movies, television programs, audio-visual aids, and American laws applicable to consensual adult homosexuals. There is a significant change in subject headings, with "gay" being used much more frequently.

9. Parker, William. Homosexuality Bibliography: Second Supplement, 1976-1982. Metuchen, N.J.: Scarecrow Press, 1985. URL(?) & EP: Z,7164,S42,P34,1985 / BI: ZWM,615,P229h,1971,supp.2

Same format as before. Although this supplement omits theses and literary works, it is the longest of the 3 volumes, reflecting the growth in research on homosexuality in more recent years. Perhaps a 3rd supplement will be published soon.

10. Roberts, JR. Black Lesbians: An Annotated Bibliography. Tallahassee, Fla.: Naiad Press, 1981. URL: HQ,75.6,U5,R6

Cites books and articles by and about black lesbians in the U.S. Sections included are: lives and lifestyles; oppression, resistance, and liberation; literature and criticism; photographs of black lesbians; music and musicians; periodicals; research, reference, and popular studies; and materials relating to the "Norton Sound" case. The bibliography includes a subject/author index, a directory of black lesbian organizations, and suggested activities for black lesbian research.

11. Weinberg, Martin S., and Alan P. Bell, eds. Homosexuality: An Annotated Bibliography. New York: Harper & Row, 1972. URL, CL ref, & EP ref: Z,7164,S42,W43 / BI reserve: ZWM,615,H754,1972

Produced by the Institute for Sex Research at Indiana University. It contains 1,265 books and articles in English published 1940-1968, with special emphasis on psychology, psychiatry, and sociology. It also has some references in law, criminology, religion, social work, and counseling. There is a detailed explanation of their bibliographic search in the introduction. The annotations are quite lengthy, sometimes almost a page. Indexed by author and subject.

DICTIONARIES

16. Malinowsky, H. Robert. International Directory of Gay and Lesbian Periodicals. Phoenix: Oryx Press, 1987. URL ref: HQ,76.25,M35,1987

List of gay, lesbian, and related periodicals which are currently being published in the world, with descriptions of their content and publishing information. Some feminist, bisexual, transvestite, transsexual, and occult publications are included. A future new edition may include lists of gay and lesbian archives, gay/lesbian social and political organizations, and bookstores. The 19 periodicals listed under "research" may be particularly helpful. Indexed by subject/geography and publisher/editor.

17. Miller, Alan V. Directory of the International Association of Lesbian and Gay Archives and Libraries. Toronto: The Association, 1987. URL: Z,675,L48,M55,1987

Contains answered surveys of gay and lesbian archives around the world, providing directory information and information on each institution's background, organization, accommodation, material collected, collection policy, special projects, accessibility, staff, finances, publications, associations, and security. However, there is little information about the actual holdings of these archives. Indexed.

19. Appleby, Amy, ed. Quentin Crisp's Book of Quotations: 1000 Observations on Life and Love By, for, and About Gay Men and Women. New York: Macmillan, 1989. URL: PN,6084,G35,Q46,1989

I believe this is the first book of quotations regarding homosexuality, and it is quite a good one. It is divided into chapters on art and literature, beauty, coming out, etc., with introductions by Quentin Crisp and many quotations from gays and lesbians and about gays and lesbians. Each person or source is identified and the date of quotation given, but there are no references. Indexed.

20. Blumenfeld, Warren J., and Diane Raymond. Looking at Gay and Lesbian Life. Boston: Beacon Press, 1989. URL: IP / CL: HQ,76.3,U5,B58,1989 (PSYCH137F)

Excellent new book which gives an overview of many aspects of gay life and culture. It includes sections on socialization and gender roles, sexuality, causes of homosexuality, religion, prejudice and discrimination, history of the lesbian and gay movement, AIDS, culture, and literature. There is much useful information in here, including lists of historical figures and a bibliography of gay and lesbian literature. Indexed.

First encyclopedia for gay and lesbian studies, it covers all aspects of homosexuality and the contributions of homosexuals to world culture. It is very pro-gay and a great antidote to the rather negative discussions of homosexuality in most general and subject encyclopedias. It includes over 770 articles on general themes, such as sociology or subculture, topics such as Spain or oral sex, and biographies of deceased gays, lesbians, bisexuals, and heterosexuals important to this field. The encyclopedia is arranged alphabetically, with references to other articles indicated by bold type in the text and at the end of articles. Short bibliographies can also be found at the end of most articles. The reader's guide groups entries by major topic and discipline, then marks the most important entries with asterisks. This is supposed to help those using the encyclopedia as a textbook. Some factual and indexing errors have been found, but the editor expects to correct these for a future revised edition. Currently it is an ideal source for background information on most topics in gay and lesbian studies.

23. Sanders, Dennis. Gay Source: A Catalog for Men. A Berkley Windhover Book. New York: Coward, McCann & Geoghegan, 1977. URL & CL: HQ,76,S215g

Handbook for gay men full of much useful information, though now somewhat dated. The various sections range from directories of gay hotlines, bookstores, and organizations to essays on gay issues such as gay music composers, gay parents, gay studies, travel, and health. There are some useful bibliographies scattered throughout the book, but unfortunately there is no index.

24. Vida, Ginny, ed. Our Right to Love: A Lesbian Resource Book. Englewood Cliffs, N.J.: Prentice-Hall, 1978. URL & CL: HQ,75.6,U5,O93 (PSYCH137F)

Lesbian handbook divided into several sections of essays, followed by a bibliography and a list of more than 1,300 lesbian-oriented organizations and services. The essay topics include: lesbian identity, relationships, research and therapy, sexuality, health, activism, visions (political and spiritual theory), law, media, culture, and supporters. The foreword was written by Rita Mae Brown. Although it may be dated now, this book still provides much information and personal testimonies on lesbianism. However, there is no index.

INDEXES

25. A Gay News Chronology, January 1969-May 1975: Indexes and Abstracts of Articles From the New York Times. New York:

Arno Press, 1975. URL: HQ,76,G247

Only provides abstracts of New York Times articles dealing with homosexuality or gay people, with no topical access. Not indexed.

26. Potter, Clare. The Lesbian Periodicals Index. Tallahassee, Fla.: Naiad Press, 1986. URL: HQ,75.6,U5,P68,1986

Author and subject guide to 42 lesbian periodicals. It mostly covers ceased serials from different lesbian communities around the U.S. and especially covers the 1970's. There are also separate indexes for lesbian writing, such as journal entries and poems, book reviews, and visual art. It appears to be quite valuable in accessing information about lesbians found in the lesbian press.

GAY & LESBIAN STUDIES

27. Altman, Dennis, et al. Homosexuality, Which Homosexuality?: International Conference on Gay and Lesbian Studies. London: GMP, 1988. URL: X2,654,701
Public lectures presented by internationally known scholars in Amsterdam, December 1987. It includes essays on social construction theory, AIDS, anti-homosexual violence, lesbian poetry, gay theology, gay and lesbian history, anthropology, and other subjects, by authors such as Dennis Altman, Martha Vicinus, Jeffrey Weeks, and Monique Wittig. The theme of this conference was the controversy between essentialism and social constructionism, which are two rival theories of homosexuality. Not indexed.

28. Crew, Louie, ed. The Gay Academic. Palm Springs, Calif.: ETC Publications, 1978. URL, CL, & EP: HQ,76.5,G25
Contains essays on gay and lesbian issues in several academic fields, including history, library science, linguistics, literature, philosophy, psychology, religion/theology, science, and sociology/political science. Many of these essays discuss teaching gay studies, gay research, gay professors, and gay students. Indexed.

29. Cruikshank, Margaret, ed. Lesbian Studies: Present and Future. Old Westbury, New York: Feminist Press, 1982. URL, CL, & EP(?): HQ,75.3,L48,1982
Treasure of information about lesbians. It includes readings on lesbians in the academic world and on teaching lesbian studies, and recent research in lesbianism. Some of the essays discuss lesbians of color, literature, psychology, history, biography, and women's studies. There are also sample syllabi from courses on lesbianism, a bibliography of books and articles currently in print about lesbians, and a guide to other lesbian resources, such as archives, films, groups, conferences, and periodicals. Indexed.

30. "The Lesbian Issue." Resources for Feminist Research 12 (March 1983). URL: HQ,1101,C16
Resources for Feminist Research is a Canadian interdisciplinary research periodical on women and sex roles. It contains research articles, abstracts of other Canadian and international research articles (but not American), book reviews, bibliographies, and resource guides. This particular issue contains essays on lesbians and teaching, lesbian culture, personal politics, and lesbian theory, along with reviews of lesbian books. The resource section, pages 77-109, gives a lot of helpful information, such as a directory of Canadian gay and lesbian groups, lesbian periodicals around the world, Canadian Gay Archives holdings of lesbian periodicals, and lists of lesbian audovisual materials. It also has an annotated bibliography of lesbian-related books, contents of selected lesbian journals, and a lesbian parenting bibliography. A definite asset for lesbian research.

35. McKee, Kathleen Burke. Women's Studies: A Guide to Reference Sources. Bibliography Series, no. 6. Storrs, Conn.: University of Connecticut Library, 1977. URL ref & CL: Z,7965,M194w

Bibliographic guide to reference sources in women's studies, especially in the University of Connecticut's Library. It discusses both general and women's studies reference works, and lists their feminist serials. There are several references under Lesbianism and Homosexuality, especially in the Sexuality section (p. 79-81). Indexed by author, title, and subject.

36. Rosenberg-Dishman, Marie Barovic, and Len V. Bergstrom. Women and Society.. Beverly Hills, Calif.: Sage, 1975-78. URL ref & CL: Z,7961,R723w

Vol. 1 (1975) and vol. 2 (1978) comprise a partially annotated bibliography of books and journal articles on women and the women's movement. Women's journals were excluded. There are several references under Lesbianism in both volumes' subject indexes, mostly in the Sexuality section under Women in Sociology.

37. Searing, Susan E. Introduction to Library Research in Women's Studies. Boulder, Colo.: Westview Press, 1985. URL ref & CL ref: Z,7961,S42,1985 / LAW: HQ,1206,S42,1985

Bibliographic guide to women's studies directed to undergraduate students, emphasizing English language sources published from 1975-1985. It contains a section on how to use the library and research strategy, as well as an annotated bibliography of reference works in women's studies and several specific and multidisciplinary fields. It includes a few lesbian bibliographies and periodicals, found under Lesbian studies. Indexed by author, title, and subject.

38. Stineman, Esther. Women's Studies: A Recommended Core Bibliography. Littleton, Colo.: Libraries Unlimited, 1979. URL ref & CL desk: Z,7961,S859w

Annotated and indexed bibliography of English-language books that support research on women. Most of the items were in print as of 1979. Indexed by author and subject.

Gay liberation movement: 6; Homosexuality: 17; Lesbian authors: 9; Lesbian feminism: 7; Lesbian mothers: 4; Lesbian poets and poetry: 9; Lesbians and lesbianism: 40, in film: 1, in literature: 40.

Although gay and lesbian studies is not one of the interdisciplinary fields considered in this guide (maybe someday!), the section on women's studies gives a good overview of feminist research and scholarship sources. Many of these periodicals and reference works will be helpful for research in lesbian studies and even gay male studies.

41. Tierney, Helen, ed. Women's Studies Encyclopedia. New York: Greenwood Press, 1989- URL ref: HQ,1115,W645,1989

Only the first vol. of this projected 3-vol. set has been published as of yet. It presents an overview of feminist research in the academic disciplines of: natural, behavioral, and social sciences; health and medicine; economics; linguistics; and political and legal sciences. There are excellent short articles on Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (AIDS), Bisexuality, Homophobia, Homosexuality, Lesbian motherhood, Lesbians, and Sexual orientation. Some of these give further references, and more gay-related topics can be located through the index. I look forward to the forthcoming vols. of this well-written encyclopedia.

ENCYCLOPEDIAS

45. Academic American Encyclopedia. Danbury, Conn.: Grolier, 1987. URL Sec. 25+ & CL ref: AE,5,A23,1987

Contains an excellent article on gay activism, written by Thomas Stoddard, a gay movement leader. It has a useful, short bibliography and discusses gay activism from the 1950's to the 1980's. There is also a well-written article under Homosexuality, while Lesbianism is only briefly defined.

46. The Encyclopedia Americana. International ed. Danbury, Conn.: Grolier, 1989. URL Sec. 25+ & EP ref: AE,5,E56,1989

Only Homosexuality and Lesbianism are in the index, with nothing under Gay, such as gay liberation movement. The article on homosexuality was written by Judd Marmor and takes a predominantly psychoanalytic approach. There are 2 other references to further reading from 1981 and 1985, but I believe they reflect considerably more positive orientations toward homosexuality than this article does. Although Marmor says that laws against homosexuals are not effective, most of his article discusses the causes, treatment, and prevention of homosexuality, with no mention of the gay/lesbian rights movement, or any event since 1967. I think this article needs some serious revision to include recent developments in this subject. The paragraph under Lesbianism gives almost no information beyond a definition. At least the Women's Rights Movement article, which I can tell was written more recently, does mention the goals of lesbian separatists.

47. The New Encyclopaedia Britannica. 15th ed. Chicago: Encyclopaedia Britannica, 1989. CL ref: AE,5,E562,1989

This major general encyclopedia's 2-volume index includes references for Gay Pride Week, the Committee on Homosexual Offences and Prostitution in Great Britain, the Homosexual rights movement, and Homosexuality. It has a very well-written article on the homosexual rights movement, which discusses both European and American events and organizations, in the Micropaedia section. The article on homosexuality is also balanced and fairly current, though neither article is signed or has references. However, the Macropaedia contains a few pages on homosexuality in the Sex and Sexuality section, vol. 27, pages 247-249. This signed essay discusses major works in homosexuality in depth. There is also a short bibliography on page 250.

48. The World Book Encyclopedia. Chicago: World Book, 1989. URL ref & CL ref: AE,5,W893,1989

Its article on homosexuality presents a well-balanced view, especially considering that it is aimed at younger readers. The gay liberation movement is mentioned, including some of its successes and setbacks.

INDEXES

49. Access. Syracuse: N.Y.: Gaylord Professional Publications, 1975- URL case I: AI,3,A165

Indexes magazines not included in Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature. Many of them are regional or local (and often not available at UCLA). Fiction and poetry only appear in the author index, but the subject index provides access to nonfiction articles.

Indexes 400 general interest periodicals and the past 2 mos. of The New York Times. Its subject scope is similar to Readers' Guide. To use the Infotrac CD-ROM format, first type the subject or name you're looking for and press enter. Then you can browse an alphabetized list, choose a heading, and see and/or print out citations. You can also narrow your search with a subheading if there are a large number of references on your subject.

54. The New York Times Index. New York: New York Times Co., 1913- URL case O, CL Newspaper Indexes, & LAW Bib Center *: AI,21,N49

Provides access to the contents of The New York Times newspaper. Most articles are indexed under broad subject headings with many cross-references made from proper names and other more specific headings. Each entry contains a brief abstract and reference to the date, page, and column of the story.

1988: Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome: 27 cols.; Homosexuality: 1 1/2 cols.
Cross-references under: AIDS Coalition to Unleash Power (ACT-UP); AIDS Theater Workshop, People With; and other AIDS organizations; Gay and Lesbian Anti-Violence Project; Gay and Lesbian Students Association; Gay and Lesbian Task Force, National; Gay Men's Chorus, NYC; Gay Men's Health Crisis (Organization); Gay Rodeo National Championship; Lesbian and Gay Community Services Center (NYC); and Lesbian and Gay Task Force, Philadelphia.

55. Popular Periodical Index. Camden, N.J.: Rutgers University, 1973- URL case I & CL Per. Indexes: AI,3,P81

Indexes articles in magazines not covered by Readers' Guide. It has been coming out every 6 mos. with no cumulative index, but in 1989 it switched to a quarterly schedule with cumulative annual index.

July-Dec. 1988: AIDS: 16; Homosexuality: 4; Washington, D.C. - Gay rights: 1.

56. Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature. New York: H.W. Wilson, 1901- URL case I, CL Per. Indexes 1: AI,3,R22, & AUPL Per. Index

The major author subject index to periodicals of general interest published in the U.S. It also contains a list of citations to book reviews. These periodical articles may be helpful for research into more popular or mainstream views of homosexuality.

1988: ACT UP (Organization): 1; AIDS (Disease): 4 p., and artists, etc.: 1 p., in art, etc.: 4; AIDS (Disease) literature: 13; AIDS patients: 18; AIDS Quilt: 2; Bisexuality: 1; Children of homosexuals: 1; Church work with homosexuals: 1; Dignity (Organization): 2; Homosexuality: 27, and Christianity: 11, in art: 1, in literature: 3, in motion pictures: 3; Lesbianism: 6, in art: 1, in television: 1; Ordination of homosexuals: 5; Sodomy: 1; Universal Fellowship of Metropolitan Community Churches: 1.

OTHER INTERDISCIPLINARY REFERENCE SOURCES

BIBLIOGRAPHIES

58. Alternatives in Print. Columbus, Ohio: Office of Educational Services, Ohio State University Libraries, 1971-1980. URL: Z,7164,S66,A462

Index and directory of small presses which publish alternative publications, including gay and lesbian ones. It provides a catalog of publishers, title index, author index, subject index to publishers, and geographic index to publishers. The subject index has listings under Gay men, Gays, and Lesbians.

59. American Book Publishing Record. ABPR Cumulative. New York: R.R. Bowker, 1985- URL case C: Z,1201,A52

Cumulation of American books published each yr. It is arranged by subject according to the Dewey Decimal Classification system and indexed by author and title. The subject guide in the back of each vol. indicates the Dewey location for each topic. There is a whole column of subheadings under AIDS (Disease) in the 1988 vol. Other relevant headings in this subject guide: Gay couples; Gay liberation movement; Gay male couples; Gay men; Gay parents; Gays; Gays' writings, American; Homosexuality; Homosexuality, Male; Homosexuals; Homosexuals, Male; Lesbian couples; Lesbian mothers; Lesbianism; Lesbians; and Lesbians' writings. Most of these have more specific subheadings, and all of them can be used to find books on gay and lesbian subjects.

60. Cumulative Book Index. New York: H.W. Wilson, 1928- URL case C: Z,1215,U58

Author, subject, and title bibliography of books published in English each yr. There is one alphabetical list of all entries, with complete information under the author's name.

1988: AIDS (Disease): 2 p.; Astrology and homosexuality: 1; Bisexuality in marriage: 1; Children of gay parents: 1; Church work with gays: 2; Gay liberation movement: 2; Gay male couples: 3; Gay men: 7; Gay parents: 1; Gays: 11, in literature: 1; Gays' writings, American: 2; Homosexuality: 29, and literature: 1, in art: 1, in literature: 1; Homosexuality, Male: 11, in literature: 2; Lesbian mothers: 2; Lesbianism: 7, in literature: 1; Lesbians: 9; Lesbians' writings, American: 2; Social work with gays: 2.
Keep in mind that several of these references are to the same few books.

61. International Directory of Little Magazines & Small Presses. Paradise, Calif.: Dustbooks, 1973/74- URL desk(latest) & CL desk(latest): Z,6944,L5,D62

Contains publishing and descriptive information about several gay and lesbian periodicals and publishers, which can be located under Gay and Lesbianism in the subject index. Most of the periodicals are not available at UCLA, though they might be received through interlibrary loan or through local bookstores.

62. The National Union Catalog of Manuscript Collections. Washington: D.C.: Library of Congress, 1959/61- URL Sec. 14+: Z,6620,U5,N21 / BI Hist. Div. ref: Z,6620,U5,N213
Identifies manuscripts located in repositories open to researchers. The collections include letters and other written or typed materials, and also transcripts of oral recordings. There are several cumulative indexes to the annual vols., though they take a few yrs. to appear. This can be a good source for primary research, although the local gay and lesbian archives may be more convenient (see Other Resources).
1980-1984: Gay liberation movement: 1; Homosexuality: 1; Lesbian Resource Center in Seattle: 1; Lesbianism: 2.

63. Subject Guide to Books in Print. New York: R.R. Bowker, 1957- (latest ed.) URL Sec. 1+, CL desk, & TA: Z,1215,P961 / BI ref: Z,1215,S941 / EP case 1: no call no.
Bibliography of currently available books. It may be especially useful for finding future books in gay and lesbian studies.
1989/1990: AIDS (Disease): 18 cols.; Bisexuality: 12; Gay liberation movement: 21; Gay men: 4; Gay parents: 1; Homosexuality: 13 1/2 cols.; Homosexuals' writings: 2 cols.; Lesbian nuns: 3; Lesbians: 4 1/2 cols.; Sodomy: 4.

INDEXES

64. American Humanities Index. Troy, N.Y.: Whitston, 1975- URL case E: AI,3,A51
Covers creative, critical, and scholarly journals in the arts and humanities, especially smaller publications.
1988: Homosexuality: 4; Lesbianism: 2.
There are also some gay-related articles under Sex and sexuality. I am sure that there are many more gay and lesbian-related articles indexed under other headings (such as for genre).

65. Arts & Humanities Citation Index. Philadelphia: Institute for Scientific Information, 1976- URL case E & ART table 1: AI,3,A63
This can be used to find articles with gay-related words in their titles, as well as those which have cited other gay and lesbian works. For example, the 1988 Permuterm Subject Index lists 6 articles under Gay and 16 under Lesbian. That same yr., 9 articles used James Saslow's Ganymede in the Renaissance as a reference and 13 used Lillian Faderman's Surpassing the Love of Men. While not very easy to use, this index can help you to locate inaccessible articles and to find recent works which comment on past gay and lesbian research. There is a helpful guide in the front of each vol.

66. Bibliographic Index: A Cumulative Bibliography of

Bibliographies. New York: H.W. Wilson, 1937/42-. URL case I, CL Book Reviews, EP table 3, & EMS ref: Z,1002,B47

Serial index to bibliographies of 50 or more citations appearing as books, pamphlets, periodical articles, or parts of those. There is no complete list of periodicals indexed.

1988: AIDS (Disease): 15; Children of gay parents: 1; Gay liberation movement: 1; Gay parents: 1; Gays: 3; Homosexuality: 8; Homosexuality, Male: 2; Lesbianism: 2. There are also numerous cross-references. In the past year, "gay men" has been used for the first time. This appears to be part of a trend towards indexing under the term "gay" rather than "homosexual" in many indexes.

67. Book Review Digest. New York: H.W. Wilson, 1905- URL case O & CL Book Review Indexes: Z,1219,B64

Index to book reviews with excerpts and cataloging information included. Fiction can be located in the subject index under Fiction themes, Children's literature, and Young adult literature. This source could be useful for finding out which lesbian and gay books have been accepted by the mainstream.

1988: AIDS (Disease): 35; Fiction themes-Homosexuality: 3; Gay liberation movement: 2; Gay men: 2; Gay women: 2; Homosexuality: 5.

68. British Humanities Index. London: The Library Association, 1963- URL case E: AI,3,S941

For articles in British newspapers and journals in the areas of the arts, economics, history, philosophy, politics, and society.

1988: Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome: 1/2 p.; Arenas, Reinaldo: 1; Blunt, Anthony: 1; Bradford, Edwin Emmanuel: 1; Forrest, Katherine V.: 1; Gay Men's Press: 1; Homosexuality: 12; Homosexuality Law: 5; Lesbianism: 2; Lister, Anne: 1; Prostitution, Male: 1.

69. California Periodicals Index. Mankato: Minn.: Gabriel Micrographics, 1978- URL case I: AI,3,C128

Guide to articles published in California's magazines concerning the state.

1987: AIDS: 10; Sexual behavior: 1.

70. Canadian Periodical Index. Ottawa: Canadian Library Association, 1964- URL Sec. 202+: AI,3,C161

Author and subject access to Canadian and American periodical literature in all subjects. It has English subject headings and French cross-references to them, but covers both English and French articles.

1988: AIDS associated viruses: 1 col.; AIDS (Disease): 7 1/2 cols., and drug abuse: 22, and employment: 12; Homosexuality: 1 col., and Christianity: 1 1/2 cols., in literature: 2; Lesbianism: 13.

71. The Chicano Index. Berkeley, Calif.: Chicano Studies Library Publications Unit, University of California at Berkeley, 1981- URL case K & CL Book Review Indexes: Z,1361,M4,C47

Comprehensive subject, author, and title index. It also contains lists of periodicals indexed completely and periodicals indexed selectively, as well as a directory of Chicano periodicals. Its thesaurus only has Homosexuality as a gay-related subject heading. The 1984-1986 cumulated subject index cites only 5 articles under this heading. Very interdisciplinary.

72. Dissertation Abstracts International. Ann Arbor, Mich.: University Microfilms International, 1938- URL Sec. 221+ & EP ref: Z,5055,U5,D571 / BI ref: W1,D1729E (-1986/1987)
The Comprehensive Dissertation Index vols. give access to abstracts of Ph.D. dissertations in all fields in the Dissertation Abstracts International. Most of the non-UCLA dissertations will not be in the UCLA libraries, but they can be ordered directly from UMI. Each discipline has a separate index, which uses keywords from the dissertation titles instead of subject headings.

73. Dissertation Abstracts Ondisc. Ann Arbor, Mich.: University Microfilms International, 1861- URL ref: CD-ROM
You can choose to browse a subject area or search terms directly on one subject area or all. There is also a tutorial guide. One disc is 1861-June 1980, with later disks for the years since then.
1989 (all subject areas): Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome: 17; Acquired Immunodeficiency Syndrome: 9; Bisexual: 7; Bisexuality: 4; Gay: 68; Homosexual: 39; Homosexuality: 21; Lesbian: 26; Lesbianism: 5; Sodomy: 3.

74. Essay and General Literature Index. New York: H.W. Wilson, 1934- URL case E & CL Literary Criticism: AI,3,E78
Wilson author/subject index to essay collection and Festschriften in the humanities and social sciences, including philosophy, religion, social and political science, economics, law, education, linguistics, science, the arts, literature, and history.
1988: Homosexuality: 2; Homosexuality, Male, in literature: 8 (all from the same collection); Lesbians in motion pictures: 1.

75. Hapi: Hispanic American Periodicals Index. Los Angeles: UCLA Latin American Center Publications, University of California, 1974- URL case K: Z,1605,H21
Subject, author, and book review index to journal articles on Latin America and Hispanics in the U.S. Homosexuality is the only gay-related subject heading listed in its thesaurus.
1987: Homosexuality: 6.

76. Humanities Index. New York: H.W. Wilson, 1974/75- URL case E & CL Per. Indexes: AI,3,R25
Indexes English-language periodicals in the following fields: archaeology, classical studies, area studies, folklore, history, language and literature, performing arts, philosophy, religion, theology, and related subjects. The explanatory notes discuss the arrangement and entries. The indexing is similar to the other indexes published by H.W. Wilson, such as Readers' Guide.

April 1988-March 1989: AIDS (Disease): 26; Homosexuality: 7, and art: 3, and literature: 12, and religion: 6, in motion pictures: 4; Homosexuals: 4; Lesbianism: 1; Sex in literature: 1; Sodomy: 2.

77. Index to Black Periodicals. Boston: G.K. Hall, 1950- URL case J & CL Book Review Indexes: AI,3,I388

Covers African-American periodicals, both general and scholarly. This index has been previously called Index to Periodical Articles By and About Blacks and Index to Periodical Articles By and About Negroes. Library of Congress subject headings are generally used.

1988: Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome: 7; Bisexuality: 1; Homosexuality: 1.

78. Index to Social Sciences & Humanities Proceedings. Philadelphia: Institute for Scientific Information, 1979- URL ref: Z,7163,I52

Published by the citation index publisher with a similar Permuterm subject index of title keywords. Its purpose is to locate selected published conference proceedings in the humanities and social sciences, which may appear as books, reports, or journal articles. It is indexed by author/editor, sponsor, meeting location, corporate body, and title keyword.

1988: AIDS: 1 col.; Bisexual: 2; Gay: 10; Homophobia: 2; Homosexual: 1; Homosexuality: 3; Homosexuals: 2; Lesbian: 4.

79. Library Literature. New York: H.W. Wilson, 1933/35- URL case K: Z,666,L61

94. Young, Ian. The Male Homosexual in Literature: A Bibliography. Metuchen, N.J.: Scarecrow Press, 1975. URL & CL ref: Z,7164,S42,Y85
Lists English-language works of fiction, drama, poetry, and autobiography which discuss male homosexuality or include male homosexual characters. Short stories are included as well. Essays on the gay novel, gay drama, gay poetry, and gay literature appear after the bibliography. The most important gay works are noted with an asterisk. It seems very comprehensive for earlier works with homosexual themes, although many of its entries have only minor incidents of homosexuality.

INDEXES

96. MLA International Bibliography of Books and Articles on the Modern Languages and Literatures. New York: Modern Language Association of America, 1956- URL case E & CL Literary Criticism: Z,7001,A511

Contains a subject index, classified listings, and author index to critical books and journal articles published on modern languages, literatures, folklore, and linguistics. A comprehensive user's guide in vol. 1 discusses the subject scope, document scope, indexing, format, search strategies, and more. Users are advised to search in both the subject index and the classified listings for their topic. Vol. I and II cover national literatures, vol. III covers linguistics, vol. IV is for general literature and related topics, and vol. V covers folklore.

1988: Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome: 1; Homophobia: 2; Homosexual dramatists: 2; Homosexual love: 1; Homosexual novelists: 1; Homosexual writers: 1; Homosexuality: 1/2 p.; Homosexuals: 4; Lesbianism: 8; Lesbian writers: 1; Pederasty: 2. There are also 2 references under Homosexuality and one under Lesbianism in the classified section for Themes and figures in vol. IV.

97. MLA International Bibliography. New York: H.W. Wilson, 1988- URL ref: Z,7001,A511 (CD-ROM)

Wilson CD-ROM format with browse menu mode and Wilsearch command mode. See #134 for instructions. In the Wilsearch mode you can combine search terms, limit them, and use title word searches, too. For example, I found 2 citations with "gays" in the title. This is the best tool for locating recent gay and lesbian literary research.

1981-Feb. 6, 1989: Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome: 3; Bisexuality: 6; Gay deaf community: 1; Homosexual: 1; Homosexual experience: 1; Homosexual love: 1; Homosexual movement: 2; Homosexual novelists: 1; Homosexual poetry: 4; Homosexual writers: 7; Homosexuality: 207; Homosexuals: 29; Lesbian feminist criticism: 1; Lesbian feminist movement: 1; Lesbian novel: 1; Lesbian novelists: 2; Lesbian poets: 5; Lesbian reader: 1; Lesbian writers: 6; Lesbianism: 40; Lesbian: 6; Homophobia: 2; Sodomist: 1.

FICTION

BIBLIOGRAPHIES

98. Fiction Catalog. New York: H.W. Wilson, 1908- URL ref(latest) & CL ref(latest): Z,5916,W69s

Bibliography of fiction titles recommended for public library collections. Book review excerpts are given for each entry. The subject index includes 34 books dealing with homosexuality and 11 books with lesbian themes, but actually there are many other gay and lesbian-related titles not listed in the subject index. The 1986, 1987, and 1988 supplements also list a few titles under Bisexuality, Homosexuality, and Lesbianism.

99. Hanna, Archibald. A Mirror for the Nation: An Annotated Bibliography of American Social Fiction, 1901-1950. Garland Reference Library of the Humanities, vol. 595. New York: Garland, 1985. URL: Z,1231,F4,H32,1985

Guide to social history in American popular fiction of the early 20th century. The subject index has 15 references for Homosexuality and 4 for Lesbianism. While many of these novels are bleak and depressing, such as Helen Anderson's Pity for Women, some, such as Truman Capote's Other Voices, Other Rooms, are more positive in their portrayals of gays and lesbians.

100. Reisner, Robert George. Show Me the Good Parts: The Reader's Guide to Sex in Literature. New York: Citadel Press, 1964. URL: Z,6514,C5,S46

Bibliography of fiction works dealing with various aspects of sexuality, from adultery to voyeurism. There is a chapter on Homosexuality (Male), pages 89-102, and one on Lesbianism, pages 123-137. Indexed by author and title.

BIOGRAPHICAL SOURCES

101. Mainero, Lina, ed. American Women Writers: A Critical Reference Guide From Colonial Times to the Present. New York: Ungar, 1979-1982. URL biography table, URL, & CL ref: PS,147,A4

Contains essays on female authors who have contributed to American literature from colonial times to the present. Each article gives a biographical, critical, and bibliographical survey of the particular author. I found several references under Homosexuality in the index, corresponding to essays on Olga Broumas, Rita Mae Brown, Anita Bryant, Laura Keane Zametkin Hobson, Carson Smith McCullers, Del Martin, Kate Millett, Virginia Ramey Mollenkott, Blair Rice Niles, Marge Piercy, Adrienne Cecile Rich, Gertrude Stein, and Mae West. One of the consultants is Barbara Grier of Naiad Press, a lesbian publisher.

102. Scott-Kilvert, Ian, ed. British Writers. New York: Scribner, 1979-1984. CL Literary Criticism: PR,85,B688

Contains articles on various British writers in English literature. Each essay includes biographical information, a critical survey of their work, a bibliography of their works, and a bibliography of research and criticism about the author. The index vol. has a few references under Homosexuality which correspond to the essays on authors: Algernon Charles Swinburne , W. Somerset Maugham, E.M. Forster, D.H. Lawrence, and Christopher Isherwood.

INDEX

103. Short Story Index. New York: H.W. Wilson, 1974- URL desk & CL Book Review Indexes: Z,5917,S5,F51

This cumulated index for several yrs. contains citations to short stories published in collections and selected periodicals arranged alphabetically by author, title, and subject. The author entry is the most complete. Stories from periodicals are not indexed by subject.

1984-1988: AIDS (Disease): 4; Bisexuality: 7; Homosexuality: 2 p.; Lesbianism: 1 p.

POETRY

104. Granger, Edith. Granger's Index to Poetry. 8th ed. New York: Columbia University Press, 1986. URL desk & CL desk: PN,4321,G76i,1986

Latest edition indexes anthologies published through June 30, 1985. Poems can be located by title, first line, author, and subject. Each poem is located by matching the anthology symbols given for it in the title and first line index with those in the key. There are 25 poems and one book (The Penguin Book of Homosexual Verse) in the subject index under Homosexuality and homosexuals.

ENCYCLOPEDIAS

109. Eliade, Mircea, ed. Encyclopedia of Religion. New York: Macmillan, 1987. URL ref & CL ref: BL,31,E46,1987

This recently-published multivol. encyclopedia provides background information on many religions, concepts, people, and other topics important in religious studies. The index vol. gives several references for Homosexuality and Lesbianism. It also contains an alphabetical list of entries and a synoptic outline of contents, which is a general view of the encyclopedia's conceptual scheme. There are gay-related essays on Agoge (the Spartan initiation ritual), Gender roles (including that of the berdache), Hierodouleia (sacred prostitution), and a 10-page article on Homosexuality. Homosexual behavior around the world and the views of different religions are discussed, and bibliographies provided. This encyclopedia is more scholarly and secular and less dogmatic than other reference works in this field.

110. New Catholic Encyclopedia. New York: McGraw-Hill, 1967- URL ref & CL ref: BX,841,N42

Vol. 7, pages 116-119, and vol. 17, pages 271-273, provide the basic teachings of the Roman Catholic Church on homosexuality and lesbianism. Indexed.

DICTIONARY

116. Garde, Noel I. Jonathan to Gide: The Homosexual in History. New York: Vantage Press. 1964. URL & CL: HQ,76,G166j

Biographical dictionary of notable men who were or alleged to have been homosexual or bisexual. Most of the entries do not offer much evidence of homosexual behavior, though there are references to works in which the allegations are made.

HANDBOOKS

117. Duberman, Martin Bauml, Martha Vicinus, and George Chauncey, Jr., eds. Hidden From History: Reclaiming the Gay and Lesbian Past. New York: NAL Books, 1989. URL & CL: HQ,76.25,H527,1989

Excellent collection of essays on gay and lesbian history from the ancient world to the present. The essays appear in order of time period covered and are written by leading gay and lesbian researchers, such as John Boswell, James Saslow, Paula Gunn Allen, and John D'Emilio. Hidden From History includes articles in the fields of anthropology, literature, political science, and sexuality. Indexed.

118. Grahn, Judy. Another Mother Tongue: Gay Words, Gay Worlds. Boston: Beacon Press, 1984. URL & CL: HQ,76.25,U5,G73,1984

Fabulous gay cultural history of gays and lesbians which examines the words used by gay people and those used about them. Grahn mixes stories of our tribal traditions and ancient past with her personal experiences to show that gay and lesbian culture has a long, rich history. It contains a glossary, bibliography, and index.

INDEXES

121. America: History and Life. Santa Barbara, Calif.: ABC-CLIO, 1989- URL Sec. 214+ & CL Abstracts: Z,1236,A514

Has recently changed its format with vol. 26, 1989. Previously, it was issued in 4 parts: article abstracts and citations; index to book reviews; American history bibliography, including dissertations; and the annual index. However, now the index is published in 4 issues per yr. with a cumulative annual index. It is organized similarly to Historical Abstracts, except that it covers Canada and the U.S.

1988: Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome: 3; Homosexuality: 9; Homosexuals: 1.

122. Historical Abstracts. Part A: Modern History Abstracts, 1450-1914. Santa Barbara, Calif.: American Bibliographical Center-Clio Press, 1971- URL Sec. 214+ & CL Abstracts: D,1,H6261

Indexes journal articles, books, and dissertations in world history, related social sciences and humanities, and the historical profession. This part covers all the world except the U.S. and Canada from 1450-1914. It is classified into geographic and chronological sections in issues 1-3, with a cumulative annual index in issue 4. Check the user's guide for an explanation of the index. You must use the abstract no. from the index to locate the complete citation for the article or book. Also indexed by author.

1988: Homosexuality: 8.

123. Historical Abstracts. Part B: Twentieth Century Abstracts, 1914-. Santa Barbara, Calif.: American Bibliographical Center-Clio Press, 1971- URL Sec. 214+ & CL Abstracts: D,1,H6262

Chronological bibliography of federal government reports, books, and hearing transcripts dealing with homosexuality. Sullivan did not find any references before 1920. Many of the references are to the Congressional Record, and most are from recent yrs.

HANDBOOKS

126. IGA Pink Book 1985: A Global View of Lesbian and Gay Oppression and Liberation. Amsterdam: COC-magazijn, 1985. URL: HQ,76.5,P56,1985

Discusses the legal and political situation for gays and lesbians in each country around the world. It is made up of 11 essays focusing on particular countries, such as Cuba and Israel, a country-by-country survey, and maps. Not indexed.

127. Second ILGA Pink Book: A Global View of Lesbian and Gay Liberation and Oppression. Utrecht: Interfacultaire Werkgroep Homostudies, Rijksuniversiteit Utrecht, 1988. URL: HQ,76.5,P56,1988

Contains essays discussing the legal and political situation for gays and lesbians and the rise of gay and lesbian movements around the world. These are organized into Global views, National developments, Country by country survey, and appendixes. There is much information about the U.S. included this time, and a brief summary of international developments in gay and lesbian studies appears on pages 55-57. Not indexed.

GENERAL SOCIAL SCIENCE REFERENCE SOURCES

BIBLIOGRAPHY

128. Oakes, Elizabeth H., and Kathleen E. Sheldon. A Guide to Social Science Resources in Women's Studies. Santa Barbara, Calif.: Clio Books, 1978. URL ref & CL ref: Z,7961,O114g

This bibliography of social science research on women in books is divided into the academic disciplines of anthropology, economics, history, psychology, sociology, and contemporary feminist thought. Most of the references seem to be from the early 1960's through the mid-1970's. There are many references under Lesbianism and Homosexuality in the subject index. Also indexed by author.

INDEXES

129. Current Contents: Social & Behavioral Sciences. Philadelphia: Institute for Scientific Information, 1974- LAW Bib Center: H,1,C87

Weekly index to the table of contents of several journals. The journal contents are indexed by title word and author.

June 19, 1989: AIDS: 6; Homosexual: 1; Homosexuality: 1.

130. International Bibliography of the Social Sciences

Three separate indexes in English and French, which are published with a 3-yr. time lag. The Thematic List of Descriptors indicates their approved subject headings and the sections in which they appear. Homosexuality seems to be the only gay-related descriptor used. Please see each individual index (#137, #145, & #155).

131. Social Sciences Citation Index. Philadelphia: Institute for Scientific Information, 1956/65- URL case I & EP table 3: Z,7161,S67

This citation index covers journal articles and some monographic series in the social sciences from anthropology to women's studies. You can use it to find research on a topic using the Permuterm Subject Index, or you can find works which have cited an earlier work through the Citation Index and Source Index. SSCI also provides access to the references cited for a particular article. There is a helpful guide that explains exactly how to use this index. The Permuterm Subject Index uses keywords from titles as headings, and you can find many references under AIDS, bisexual, gay, homophobia, homosexual, lesbian, sodomy, and related words. An example of a gay-related citation search would be the 11 citations to John D'Emilio's Sexual Politics, Sexual Communities in the 1988 Citation Index. A very helpful tool for scholarly research in interdisciplinary fields, such as gay and lesbian studies.

132. Social Sciences Citation Index. Philadelphia, Pa.: Institute for Scientific Information, 1988- URL ref: Z,7161,S67 (CD-ROM)

Easy and fun to use, although it only starts with 1988. You can search by author, title, journal, address, citation, or set. For subject searches, use the title search. Searches and citations may be examined and printed, and there are several other features, too (such as search limits, etc.).

1988 title terms: AIDS: 402; Bisexual: 4; Gay: 3; Gays: 48; Homophobia: 2; Homosexual: 48; Homosexual* (truncated): 80; Lesbian: 9; Lesbian*: 16; Sodomy: 15

133. Social Sciences Index. New York: H.W. Wilson, 1974/75- URL case E, CL Per. Indexes, & EP table 3: AI,3,R24 / LAW Bib Center: AI,3,S64

Wilson index to English-language periodical articles in the following subjects: anthropology, area studies, community health and medical care, economics, geography, international relations, law and criminology, minority studies, planning and public administration, police science and correction, policy sciences, political science, psychiatry, psychology, social work and public welfare, sociology, and urban studies. The subject and author index is followed by a book review index. Particularly good for interdisciplinary research, such as in gay and lesbian studies.

April 1988-March 1989: AIDS (Disease): 2 1/2 p.; AIDS Project Los Angeles: 1; AIDS patients: 24; Attitudes toward homosexuality: 10; Bisexuality: 5; Counseling with gays: 1; Gay couples: 4; Gay fathers: 1; Gay male couples: 3; Gay men: 1/2 p.; Gay studies: 1; Gay youth: 2; Gays: 25; Homosexuality: 7, and Christianity: 2; Homosexuality, Male: 3; Lesbian couples: 2; Lesbian mothers: 1; Lesbianism: 4, in literature: 1; Lesbians: 1; Psychotherapy with gays: 4; Social work with AIDS patients: 4; Social work with gays: 1; Sodomy: 2; United States-Armed Forces-Gays: 1.

134. Social Sciences Index. Bronx, N.Y.: H.W. Wilson, 1983- CL ref: AI,3,R24 (CD-ROM)

The CD-ROM database has the same Wilson format as General Science Index (#190). To use the browse mode, just type a subject word or personal name, then press enter. You can then browse the alphabetical heading list, choose a heading, and see and print out citations. For the Wilsearch mode, see #97.

Feb. 1983-Jan. 2, 1990: AIDS (Disease): 289, and employment: 9, and the arts: 1, in children: 16; AIDS patients: 50; AIDS Project Los Angeles: 1; Bisexuality: 10; Gay couples: 9; Gay fathers: 7; Gay liberation movement: 2; Gay male couples: 4; Gay men: 92; Gay periodicals: 1; Gay studies: 1; Gay youth: 12; Gays: 118; Homosexual couples: 1; Homosexuality: 59, and Christianity: 5, in literature: 1, in motion pictures: 1, in television: 1; Homosexuality, Male: 7; Lesbian couples: 3; Lesbian mothers: 3; Lesbian youth: 1; Lesbianism: 29, in literature: 5; Lesbians: 15; Sodomy: 8.

PSYCHOLOGY

ENCYCLOPEDIA

160. Wolman, Benjamin B., ed. International Encyclopedia of Psychiatry, Psychology, Psychoanalysis, & Neurology. New York: Van Nostrand Reinhold, 1977. URL ref, CL ref, & EP ref: RC,334,I61 / BI ref: WM,13,I61,1977

Example of a traditional psychological view of homosexuality. Its main article on the subject appears in vol. 5, pages 404-410, with several other references to it in the index. The discussion emphasizes the probable causes and treatment of homosexuality, though it recognizes that some homosexuals may need to adapt to their condition. Almost all other psychology encyclopedias echo this theme.

INDEXES

161. Chicago Psychoanalytic Literature Index. Chicago: Institute for Psychoanalysis, 1975- EP table 1: Z,7204,P8,C4

Provides access to journal articles and books in psychoanalysis by subject and author.

1987-1988: AIDS: 3 cols.; Bisexuality: 2 cols.; Homosexuality: 7 cols.; Homosexuality, Female: 1 col.

162. PsycBOOKS. Arlington, Va.: American Psychological Association, 1988- EP table 1: BF,1,P7

From 1927-1981, Psychological Abstracts provided access to books in psychology as well as journal articles. Starting in 1987, Psycbooks provides this subject and author access to books and chapters of books. It uses the same descriptors found in the Thesaurus of Psychological Index Terms as Psychological Abstracts and PsycLIT.

1988: Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome: 1 p.; Bisexuality: 1; Homosexuality: 15; Homosexuality (Attitudes toward): 3; Lesbianism: 8; Male homosexuality: 7.

163. Psychological Abstracts. Arlington, Va.: American Psychological Association. URL case L, CL Abstracts, & EP table 1: BF,1,P94 / BI table 6: W1,PS603

Major index to psychology research in journals. Several gay-related headings can be found in the Thesaurus of Psychological Index Terms. The subject index provides abstract nos., which are used to locate the article citations and abstracts in separate abstract vols. Also indexed by author.

1989: Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome: 5 1/2 p.; Bisexuality: 15; Homosexuality: 1/2 p.; Lesbianism: 1 p.; Male Homosexuality: 1 1/2 p.; Homosexual liberation movement: 1; Homosexuality (Attitudes toward): 1/2 p.

164. PsycLIT. Wellesley Hills, Mass.: SilverPlatter Information Services, 1986- EP ref: CD-ROM & BI Learning Resources: W1,PS939 (CD-ROM)

This is the CD-ROM version of Psychological Abstracts, which allows you to search several yrs. of citations in many different ways. It uses the SilverPlatter format. While in the FIND command (F2), type a subject heading from the Thesaurus of Psychological Index Terms with hyphens between or after the words, then follow the directions to see (show) the records retrieved and to print out the citations and/or abstracts. You may also combine headings to narrow a search, use non-descriptors (without hyphens) to search titles and abstracts for keywords, and search for specific authors (type "in AU" after the name).

1983-1989: Acquired-Immune-Deficiency-Syndrome: 667; Bisexual: 160; Bisexual* (truncated keyword): 214; Bisexuality-: 88; Gay: 406; Gay in TI (title keyword): 151; Gay*: 708; Gay* in TI: 151; Heterosexism: 3; Homophobia: 110; Homosexual*: 1,261; Homosexual-liberation-movement: 3; Homosexuality-: 278; Homosexuality-attitudes-toward: 182; Lesbian*: 342; Lesbianism-: 269; Male-homosexuality: 452.

Bibliography of books and journal articles on bisexuality.

INDEX

169. Indiana University, Alfred C. Kinsey Institute for Sex Research. Sex Studies Index. Boston, Mass.: G.K. Hall, 1982. URL ref: HQ,60,S49

Although this index from the Alfred C. Kinsey Institute only lasted one yr. (1980), it helps to locate many periodical articles and collected essays in many areas of gay and lesbian studies. Many of the gay references are to the essay collections Lavender Culture, Gay Men, and New Gay Liberation, all published in 1979. Unfortunately, there is no current similar index.

Bisexuality: 4; Homophobia: 8; Homosexual ... (actors to writers): 4 1/2 p.; Homosexuality ... (and mental health to therapy): 6 p.; Homosexuals ... (advice to sex behavior): 3 1/2 p.

170. Diamond, E.L., and M.E. Manning. Coming to Terms: Lesbian and Gay Health: An Annotated Bibliography for Consumers and Health Care Providers. [s.l.]: The Authors, 1985. BI Pamphlet File: Subject Homosexuality-Bibliography

Presents positive and non-judgmental books and articles on gay and lesbian health care. Listings for AIDS, sexually transmitted diseases of gay men, alcoholism, and other well-covered topics are kept minimal. The annotations are often lengthy and seem quite helpful.

HANDBOOK

171. Shernoff, Michael, and William A. Scott, eds. The Sourcebook on Lesbian/Gay Health Care. 2d ed. Washington, D.C.: National Lesbian/Gay Health Foundation, 1988. BI reserve: WM,615,S724,1988

Excellent handbook on lesbian and gay health care. It includes (but is certainly not limited to) AIDS, as well as issues of mental health, substance abuse, sexuality, gay/lesbian families, and special populations within the gay community. Several overview articles discuss general gay and lesbian health care, such as its history and development of community centers, and there are bibliographies and directories in the back.

172. Miller, Alan V. Gays and Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (AIDS): A Bibliography. 2nd ed. Toronto: Canadian Gay Archives, 1983. BI Ref: ZWD,308,M647g,1983

Contains citations to articles on AIDS in the medical, gay, and mainstream presses and indicates the items held in the Canadian Gay Archives. Although it is very out-of-date already, it can still help provide a gay perspective of the early years of the AIDS epidemic.

HANDBOOK

174. Curry, Hayden, and Denis Clifford. A Legal Guide for Lesbian and Gay Couples. 5th ed. Berkeley, Calif.: Nolo Press, 1989. URL: KFC,538,C87,1989

This handbook provides practical information about laws affecting gay and lesbian couples. It is updated regularly, and covers living-together contracts, joint purchases, parenting, child custody, medical emergencies, estate planning, and other issues, such as changing your name (hmmm!). It seems quite useful and clearly written.

AIDS

BIBLIOGRAPHIES

175. AIDS Information Resources Directory. New York: American Foundation for AIDS Research. 1988. CL desk: RC,607,A26,A26,1988

Compiles over 1,000 educational and informational materials about AIDS, AIDS related illnesses, and HIV infection, including brochures, pamphlets, videotapes, curricula, posters, books, manuals, and government reports. The main section is a guide to selected AIDS educational materials by primary target audience. The Gay and bisexual men section appears in pages 23-25. Producer and distributor information is also provided, along with several indices.

Annotated guide to resources for AIDS research at UC Berkeley's libraries. The first chapter discusses the tremendous growth in AIDS literature. Succeeding chapters focus on public health and biomedical resources, business and economics, education and psychology, humanities, legal resources, and government documents. Lists of AIDS-specific journals, audiovisual materials, and AIDS organizations are included. This is an excellent source of information for AIDS research. Many of the annotations for indexes include appropriate subject headings. Not indexed.
